P R O G R A M S

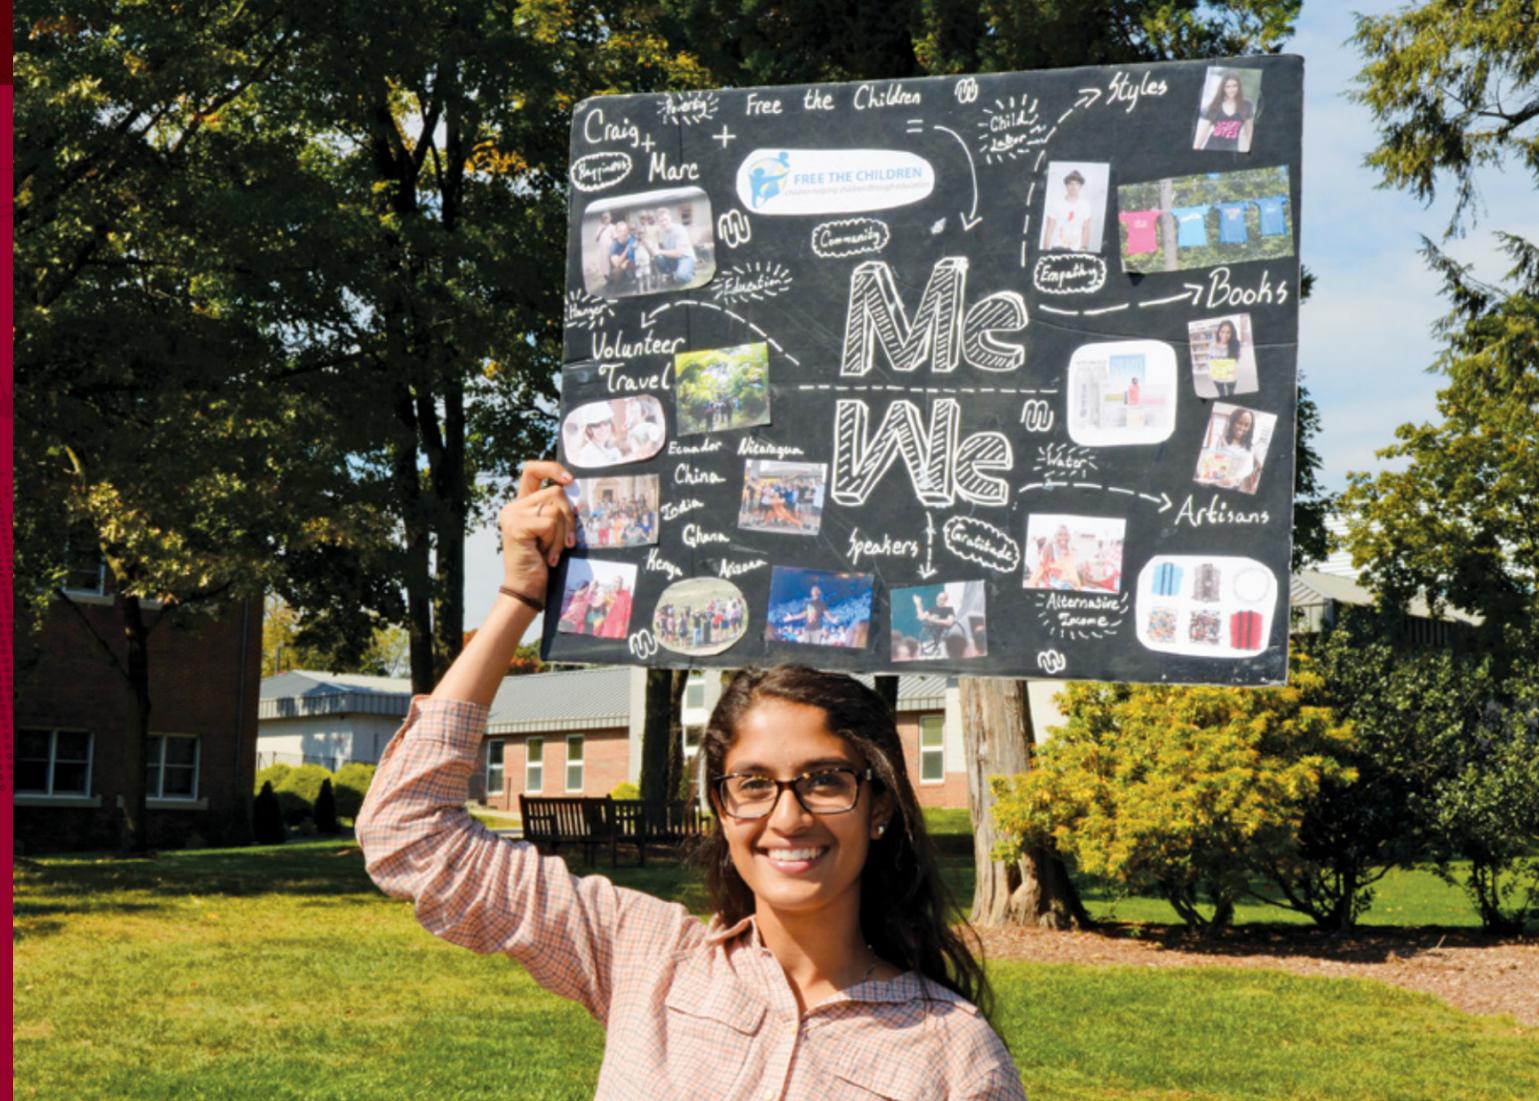

“The faculty at Rutgers Prep are mentors to help you pursue the areas you are interested in. There are always resources and opportunities for you to pursue your interests, the only thing you need is your own motivation. The student to teacher ratio is low, and teachers are willing to support students in pursuing activities like Physics and Chemistry Olympics. I will miss collaborating with my teachers and classmates the night before competitions in Math Moody’s, Chemistry Olympics, Physics Olympics, and Math Modeling.

CELEBRATING MORE THAN 250 YEARS OF EXCELLENCE

Rutgers Preparatory School is the first independent school in New Jersey.

RUTGERS PREP OFFERS A RIGOROUS college preparatory program and a community representing many cultural, religious, and ethnic backgrounds. Our students and faculty reflect the diversity of our surrounding towns and the greater metropolitan New York area. With 46 different languages spoken in the homes of our students, more than 50 percent of them children of first and second generation immigrants, international students find it easy to fit in at Rutgers Prep.

Rutgers Prep is uniquely positioned to give international students the academic skills that will enable them to gain admission to preparatory schools and colleges in the United States and to be successful in their studies. Our international programs provide an immersion experience in language and culture by making international students fully a part of academic life and school activities. Rutgers Prep is dedicated to giving international students the tools for success in high school, college, and their careers.

International Programs

Rutgers Prep enrolled its first international students, a group from Japan, in 1856. We are proud of our history of fostering international understanding and providing academic opportunities for students from around the world. Rutgers Prep offers three unique programs for international students that continue to promote these important values.

THE INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM for students in grades K-12 offers a full immersion experience. Most students who enroll in this program stay at Rutgers Prep through the Upper School and graduate. We encourage families to consider enrolling as early as possible to give their children the optimum chance to gain English proficiency and develop academic skills.

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE BRIDGE PROGRAM enables international students in grade 12 to spend a year at Rutgers Prep before entering a U.S. college or university. Through solid preparation, students develop stronger language, research, and study skills, and acclimate to a new culture and the American education system. Students in this program have the added advantage of guaranteed acceptance to at least one of our partner colleges or universities.

More detail about the International and Bridge Programs can be found at the end of this publication.

International students who are proficient in English and comfortable with the academic expectations in American classrooms are more successful in adjusting to life at a U.S. prep school or college. At Rutgers Prep, we understand how important it is to prepare international students for global citizenship. We do so by providing an immersion experience that makes them fully a part of our school community. Many other schools offer English as a Second Language (ESL) programs that are separate from the standard curriculum for American students. At Rutgers Prep, international students are integrated into most of their academic classes and activities with the rest of our students. As a result, international students at Rutgers Prep become more confident academically and socially, and better prepared for the rigors of a U.S. college education.

“The transition to RPS was great. Joining soccer and drama allowed me to find friends quickly and to acclimate to the US more smoothly. Within six months, my spoken English improved significantly, and I am now a confident writer as well.”

Academic Program

Academic excellence defines our mission at Rutgers Prep. Students throughout the grades are held to high standards in their studies. In small classes with teachers who are experts in their fields, students learn to articulate original ideas, work independently and manage workloads, solve problems, collaborate with others, and appreciate the foundations of world culture in art, history, literature, and science.

“Being on the tennis team for 3 years and able to compete for Rutgers Prep was the highlight of my sports career. There is nowhere else in this world I enjoy playing tennis more. Thanks to the various Advanced Placement courses provided at Rutgers Prep, I was able to deeply explore subjects of interest, and to receive 25 credits (almost a semester’s worth) at Cornell based on my AP test scores.”

COLLEGE COUNSELING

Our college counseling program helps students find the college that matches their interests and goals. Each student works with a college counselor to determine a list of suitable colleges for application. The counselor then supports that student throughout the process from writing essays and completing applications to making final decisions. Students also receive support through specially scheduled classes known as Junior and Senior Seminar that provide guidance with all aspects of the application process. The college counseling program is a significant piece of the Rutgers Prep experience that enables our graduates to succeed. Students in the International Program and the American College Bridge Program work closely with a college counselor and receive support throughout the admissions process.

For qualified students, RUTGERS PREP OFFERS Advanced Placement and Honors courses, along with a wide range of electives, for students in the upper grades. The curriculum allows students to explore their interests in depth and emphasizes college-level work. Our graduates are fully prepared for the academic requirements of college, with strong skills in writing, research, and presentation.

OUR TEACHERS ARE PASSIONATE about their subjects and work with students individually to ensure their success. Close relationships between students and teachers, and among students, make Rutgers Prep a warm, supportive community.

Innovations Programs

IN THE MIDDLE SCHOOL the Ideas and Innovations Program, and in the Upper School the Innovations Program, allow students to work on projects in specialized subjects. These unique learning opportunities teach real world skills in leadership, independent and collaborative work, research, entrepreneurship, and creativity. Students discover their passions and gain valuable experience in seeing a project through from start-up to completion. In the Middle School, topics have included Robotics, Public Speaking and Debate, STEAM Projects, 3-D Design, and Ethics and Service. Recent projects in the Upper School have included Engineering Solutions to Everyday Problems, Hands-on History, Business and Entrepreneurship, Stages (creating dramatic presentations), and Chemistry Olympics.

Life on Campus

Located in Somerset, New Jersey, Rutgers Prep is situated on 46 acres bordered by the Raritan River. Our welcoming, safe campus offers a beautiful setting and exceptional facilities. Close to Rutgers University and Princeton University, and within easy distance of New York City, Rutgers Prep is ideally located to take advantage of the rich cultural life of the greater metropolitan area. Field trips regularly take students to historic sites, museums, and theaters in Philadelphia and New York City.

“RPS has a great international community consisting of students not only from New Jersey but from all over the world. I’m very thankful for the experience of taking classes and participating in all kinds of activities with them (sports, clubs, contests, etc.), since these interactions have allowed me to learn new things about other people, and their ideas and where they come from. It’s been an eye-opening experience.

Athletics

MIDDLE AND UPPER SCHOOL STUDENTS may participate on one of the 44 Rutgers Prep teams. In the Upper School, we offer 15 varsity teams, and junior varsity teams in most sports. Our “no cut policy” means that every student has a chance to join a team. With strong participation among students, the Athletics Program is a significant learning and bonding experience. Professional coaches, many of whom were college athletes, help students develop their skills and promote teamwork and sportsmanship.

Activities

IN EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES AND CLUBS, students learn valuable skills, form close friendships, and exercise leadership. In the Upper School, over 40 clubs offer a wide range of options, from Model United Nations to the Environmental Awareness Club to the Latin Dance Club. Rutgers Prep students are also active in community service, volunteering for many different organizations locally, nationally, and internationally. Upper School students fulfill a community service requirement each year.

Arts

A STRONG PROGRAM in visual arts, music, and theater gives students many opportunities to explore their talents. Arts classes include architecture, computer and multimedia design, painting and drawing, ceramics, and photography. Choral and instrumental music groups regularly perform on and off campus. The theater program presents several productions a year in addition to offering drama classes in the Middle and Upper School.
